DAY 7: Kodaikanal

Today Morning after breakfast start early for a full day sightseeing tour of kodaikanal.

Guna caves (optional) : The Guna Caves in Kodaikanal have an engrossing history; it is believed that the Pandavas used to cook their meals in these caves, and hence it was initially called The Devil's Kitchen. The name was later changed in the '90s when the film Guna was shot here.

The caves are hugged by three gigantic rock pillars and are sheltered by the Shola trees. It is a place that some find risky, and some find rousing due to its altitude, steep drops, and cliffs. You cannot visit the caves anymore since they are now jailed for people's safety, but it is still worthy of your time to even set your eye on it from a distance as you walk through the pine forest. (9:00 am to 4:30 pm. All days.)

Later Visit Pillar rocks view point : These rocks narrate a yarn of a love story that still touches many hearts. Protruding from within the tall mountains, these pillars reach up to a height of 400 feet thus offering the paramount contour of the hills.

Timings : (09.00AM to 04.00PM)

Entry Fee: INR 10 per person and INR 20 for camera

Green valley view point : Green Valley View is amongst the very few places to visit in Kodaikanal that offers a bird's eye view of the Vaigai Dam. Apart from that, it is a one-stop-shop to get a wholesome view of the enthralling greenery, the cloud-bound valley.

It is also amongst the dangerous viewpoints since the route up is tricky, and is on a great height which makes standing there also unsafe. The mist takes over the crowd post late afternoon, and that might disrupt the spectacle from there unless you are there for the haze.

India's first Wax Museum : It is a small museum which displays the Crib, the Last Supper, and some internationally known personalities. In Addition to these, there are some highlights which include Indian saints and personalities such as Adi Shankara, Sai Baba, Gandhiji, Lord Krishna with Gopikas, Indian musicians and Veerappan, the sandalwood smuggler.

Timings: 10:00 am to 05:30 pm

Entry Fees: 30 INR

Vattankal Waterfalls : Right in the middle of a peaceful forest, Vattakanal Falls is among the most amazing places to see in Kodaikanal. During monsoon season, the waterfall is in full swing making it look grand and gorgeous. Vattakanal Falls is one of those waterfalls in Kodaikanal that are absolutely safe to be around, but you're still suggested to wear footwear that aren't slippery. You can sit by Vattakanal Falls and relish some hot lip-smacking delicacies sold by localites while the falls amaze you with all its glamour. Hiking up the route of the falls is also an option.

Evening return to the hotel. Dinner & Overnight stay at Kodai.

(The itinerary changes as per your time, schedule and the hotel area which you stay in)

(Entry fees & activity cost to be paid directly wherever applicable)

Breakfast & Dinner

DAY 8: Kodaikanal

Today Morning after breakfast leave around 9 am to visit Coaker's walk : Driving through the mountains is one experience, but walking an entire kilometre on that path while you look at the lush green mountains on the other end is something else.

City people use this path for morning and evening walks. The telescope House escalates the view of the valley, even though chargeable, it is grandeur! The weather is pleasant throughout the year, but it is frigid and foggy during the winter due to its height.

Timings: 07.00AM to 07.00PM

Entry Fees: INR 10 per person, INR 30 for camera and INR 20 to visit Telescope House

Bryant Park : The park is hoarded with variant types of species of plants and shrubs that leaves one astounded for long. Horticulture and gardening fanatics visit this place in plenty. The Annual Horticulture Show conducted in May keeps people waiting from around the world!

Entry Fees: INR 30 per person, INR 50 for camera and INR 100 for video camera

Lutheran Church : Built in 1932, Lutheran Church of Kodaikanal is an impressive Gothic style structure. The church is adorned with stained glass window, modern paintings, and murals depicting the life of Jesus Christ. Anyone interested in a beautiful piece of architecture must pay a visit to this shrine.

Timings: 7:00 am to 8:00 pm.

Kodai chocolate factory : Started in 1999, Kodai Chocolate Factory is a leading manufacturer and suppliers of chocolates, aromatic oils, coffees etc. They specialize in making delicious homemade chocolates and their products are 100% vegetarian. If you are a die-hard chocolate fan, it is among the must-visit places to see in Kodaikanal for you. Do pay a visit to Pot Luck, Cloud Street, Chocolate Factory and SG Cottage Industries to buy and try different varieties of chocolates.

Anna salai market : It is a loaded market where you can hop from shop to shop and buy one thing for everyone in your family. You can pick up fresh fruits and vegetables, a variety of homemade chocolates, craftworks, shawls, jewellery, bone and walnut items and other products made of leather and brass.

As there is an abundance of flowers, you can buy great-smelling, medicinal or any type of oils and balms at throwaway prices. They also sell a lot of organic groceries starting from jams, pickles, creams, incense bread and other baked items.

Chettiar Park : You will find a wide range of fascinating flowering in the garden giving this whole garden a colourful view which are worth capturing in your frame.. Kurinji flowers, which bloom once in 12 years also have a special place in the garden and the last they bloomed in 2004. Whenever they bloom, they create a unique purple haze everywhere which is worthy for the wait of 12 years.

Timings: 09:00 am to 05:00 pm

Entry Fees: INR 10 per person 25 INR per Still Camera

Upper lake view point : You will be amazed at the fact how beautiful the star-shaped lake looks amidst the greenery which was created in 1863 by Sir Vere Henry Levinge. Tourists say that the contrast they find between the lake and lush greens is just appealing to the eyes.

It makes this place very much close to perfect for a good photography session and the famous Kodai Lake. Other activities you can expect in the lake are boating, cycling and horse riding on the top of the hill.
